EXPOSITION OF MATTERS TO VOTE ON TOMORROW

Expositions Nos. 1 and 2 for Information of Citizens

From Standpoint of Equity and Practicability
No. 2 Is Preferable—Advantages
Are Made Plain

BY CITY MANAGER WATSON

We have received a number of telephone calls at the office from citizens desiring to vote on Propositions Nos. 1 and 2. The desire seems to be that if one of these propositions has any material advantage over the other that it should be pointed out so that voters could decide as between the two propositions advisedly. In response to these inquiries, we submit the following:

We will not explain the propositions in detail, but will refer you to your sample ballot upon which propositions are stated.

Propositions Nos. 1 and 2 are both practicable as far as the water business is concerned inasmuch as in either case the revenues of the water department will not be drawn upon to finance extensions of service mains.

Proposition No. 2 has distinct advantages over Proposition No. 1 from the standpoint of equity and practicability. It is more equitable from the fact that only the property served will be called upon to pay the cost of service mains. It is more practicable for the reason that distribution mains may be laid on a given block or street as they are needed without calling upon the entire city to pass on the matter by voting bonds to cover the cost thereof. In other words a service main as a local improvement would be installed when locally required and paid for locally. Under this plan a system of four-inch cast iron service mains can be installed covering the entire city as the necessity therefore requires without the necessity of expensive and prolonged campaigns for bond issues. On the other hand those undeveloped sections of the city will not be called upon to install service mains until the same are needed in these sections, neither will they be called upon to pay the cost of installing service mains in other sections of the city. No. 2 if adopted would establish a policy by which a system of four-inch cast iron service mains could be extended automatically over the entire city as the necessity therefor requires.

Proposition No. 1 as stated before would require bond issues from time to time for the purpose of installing four-inch cast iron service mains. This would involve a campaign of education in each instance and if the bonds should fail to carry owners of property fronting on streets needing service mains at that time may be inconvenienced by having to wait until another campaign for bonds could be had which would, of course, involve considerable delay. In the meantime these property holders would have to put up with poor service and possibly the improvement of their street would be delayed for many months.

On the general proposition of bonding the city for the cost of service mains it should be borne in mind that bond issues for general water development, storage and distribution system will amount to at least $600,000. It would seem that in view of the many other improvements that are needed for which bonds may no doubt be authorized (sewer system for instance), it might be well to confine the issuing of bonds on account of investments in the water business to the general development and distribution works and to install the service mains in accordance with Proposition No. 2.

As a property holder who will soon have to pay my proportionate part for the installation of a four-inch service main to serve my property, I am in favor of Proposition No. 2 for the reason that under Proposition No. 1 I will not be called upon to pay for that main until it is needed and when it is needed I will not have to wait for it until the entire city gets ready to vote bonds.

MOTHERS MEET - AT LONG BEACH

Glendale will be well represented when, with Long Beach as host on Thursday March 31, the all-day conference of the first district, California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations will be held in the First M. E. church there.

Mrs. A. A. Barton, as district financial secretary, and Mrs. P. S. McNutt as district parliamentarian, will be much in evidence for Glendale.

The program will revolve around the theory of creating in the minds of children right standards of living by systematic, purposeful training during the earliest years of their lives.

The talks will effectively bring out that this is an age of trained workers in every line, an age of efficiency with haphazard methods taboo. Parenthood—the most noble of callings—necessarily demands that mothers and fathers should be able to give the wisest and most thoughtful training.

Mrs. Ethel B. Waring, of the University of California, Southern Branch, the initial speaker of the morning, will dwell on the great importance of the first 12 years of child life in character building, closing with helpful discussion of how parents may obtain best results.

At the afternoon session, Mrs. Wilhelmina Loos, of Pasadena, will stress the thought in her talk on "Establishing proper standards of thrift among children," that here, too, early habits of correct thinking will develop later into a discriminating sense of real values.

Discussion by visitors subsequently promises most interesting views from many angles.

At 10 o'clock the usual council of presidents affords opportunity for all interested to get pointers on parliamentary tactics, Mrs. P. S. McNutt, of Glendale, putting on the drill which, if studied, dissipates one of the bugaboos of club life for women.

Cordial invitations are out for anyone interested to attend all sessions at Long Beach, including the 10 o'clock drill.

Mrs. H. R. Archbald, president, and Mrs. Wayland W. Wilson, corresponding secretary, both of South Pasadena, and Mrs. A. A. Barton of Glendale, financial secretary, of the first district, have active cooperation of committees on making the last day of March notable for Parent-Teacher and mother work in these communities.

"INSIDE THE CUP" AT PALACE GRAND

Large audiences at the Palace Grand theater Sunday were deeply impressed by the leading picture on the program, "Inside the Cup." It is a powerful dramatization of Winston Churchill's great novel of the same title. John Parr, a wealthy Wall Street stock speculator, ruthless and dishonorable in his methods, is the leader of a group of capitalists who control large commercial enterprises and who are also members of the board of trustees of a fashionable and exclusive New York church. Their outward piety and the evil they do through their crooked transactions, are strongly portrayed and make a play very different from the usual motion picture and one deeply absorbing. It will be repeated today.

INSTALL WIRELESS RECEIVING STATION

The Jewel Electric company have installed a wireless receiving station on top of their building at 202 East Broadway.

The instrument receives both wireless telegraph and telephone messages and this morning picked up messages from Catalina and other places. This instrument is capable of receiving messages from any place in the United States.

Tomorrow the company expects to have a somewhat larger set by means of which messages from France and Germany may be received. The station is maintained to demonstrate the instruments which the Jewel Electric company has in stock; two or three of their men are proficient wireless operators.

LIGHT POLICE REPORT

Two bicycles stolen and both recovered, three auto accidents in which no one was hurt, and not much damage done—this constituted the very meager police report for Easter Sunday.

INTERMEDIATES SHOW INTEREST

There was a parade of intermediate school children this afternoon in the interest of the bond election tomorrow for the civic center and swimming pool. It started at the school building, going south on Jackson to Broadway, west to Brand, south to Colorado, then north to Broadway and Brand, where, at the northwest corner, a halt was made for a few minutes to sing songs and give yells. Then the march was resumed up Brand to Wilson and east to the school building.

PAY LAST RESPECTS TO JOHN T. RAWLINS

Relatives and friends gathered at the Baptist church, Saturday, March 26, at 2:30 o'clock, to pay the last sad tribute to John T. Rawlins. A good neighbor and a kindly loving father who passed from this life at Redlands, Tuesday, Mr. Rawlins was at one time a resident of Glendale, leaving here to go to Yucaipa. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Virginia F. Rawlins and three daughters, Mrs. H. H. Martin of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. B. Chock and Mrs. H. M. Overton, all former residents of Glendale.

Rev. Eugene Haynes, friend and former pastor, conducted the services, which were beautiful and impressive.

WEALTHY WOMAN DIES IN PASADENA

Mrs. Pullman's daughter, Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, her son-in-law, Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, and her granddaughter, Miss Harriet Lowden, were at her bedside when she passed away.

LATE TELEGRAPH NEWS IN BRIEF

BLEW UP THE POSTOFFICE SAFE

BRAND SUIT AS POLITICAL MOVE

NEW YORK, March 28.—Friends of Ralph Henry Cameron, Republican United States senator from Arizona, who has just been named defendant in a $100,000 alienation suit in this city, rallied to his support today, branding the charges as "ridiculous" and "a political move." No answer has yet been filed.

The suit was brought by Edward T. McFarlin, who is understood to be living in Boston. He alleges that the senator brought undue influence upon Mrs. Margaret McFarlin in 1916 and that he caused her to be detained and harbored. Senator Cameron is at present in Washington. Counsel in the case refused to divulge any of the details.

FRESH ELEMENT OF MYSTERY

NEW YORK, March 28.—A fresh element of mystery was added to the Stillman divorce sensation today when it was learned that a third woman, whose identity is being carefully concealed, is about to figure in the case.

Counsel for Mrs. James A. Stillman, it was learned, have developed an entirely new plan of action in their fight against her husband's efforts to obtain a divorce and declare Baby Guy Stillman illegitimate.

Young Leeds recently arrived in Athens by airplane from Cherbourg to visit the bedside of his mother (the former Mrs. William B. Leeds), who has been seriously ill.

NEW CHARTER FOR CITY OF GLENDALE

Mayor Dwight W. Stephenson, City Manager Thomas W. Watson and Prof. R. D. White Deliver Addresses

MEETING CONDUCTED BY SEC. RHOADES

The Best and Most Disinterested Review of the Charter Yet Made—Advocate Recreation Center for City

A fine exposition of the matters to be voted upon tomorrow was given at a meeting held in the Branch Library building at Brand and Los Feliz road, Saturday evening. It was conducted by Secretary Rhoades of the chamber of commerce and was addressed by Richardson D. White, T. W. Watson and Dwight W. Stephenson.

Mr. White, the first speaker, made an earnest plea for the $83,000 bond issues for a recreation center, declaring that the people of Glendale cannot afford to ignore the natural instinct of its young people for the sort of recreation which will be wholesome and build them up mentally and which, lacking this center, they will be—being driven—to seek outside the city.

As a financial investment, he declared, it would be profitable because it could not fail to appreciate in value and in a central location could always be sold should the money be desired for some larger recreational center.

Mr. Watson, with the aid of a stereopticon, showed large maps of the water system of the city and explained what has already been accomplished in the development of over 1000 inches of water from Verdugo canyon and the city wells, with 600 inches more in sight. The main lines and elevated reservoirs which have been provided to insure pressure were indicated, and finally the necessity for the relaying of service mains to replace those laid 30 years ago which are so disintegrated that they will not stand the pressure of the water system when completed. He showed that this condition exists all over the city and for that reason the city trustees are asking for an expression from the voters as to how the laying of this service pipe is to be financed. He showed that it would be impossible to do it out of the revenues of the water department unless the rates were materially increased and that would be unfair to water users because the owners of vacant property would be getting benefits for which they would be paying nothing. The other two ways would be by assessment on abutting property or by bond issues on which interest and redemptions would be met by a special tax on all property. Mr. Watson also referred to the need for warehouses for the storage of autos and other property owned by the city.

The best disinterested review of the charter that has been thus far made was then given by Dwight Stephenson, president of the board of city trustees, who made it clear that he is unequivocally in favor of the charter, although it will mean the automatic retirement of the present board and the election of a city council composed of five members to take its place. He showed that there will be no material change in the city government, it will still be the managerial form, but the charter will give us home rule instead of simply the powers granted to cities of the sixth class. Under the charter, the city's powers can be indefinitely increased. Under the present government no additional powers can be secured except by an act of the legislature and then any concessions obtained must be such as will apply to all cities of the sixth class. He declared the commission form would require at least three commissioners, which would involve considerable expense, and the other alternative would be a common council and mayor, and the officer last named he pronounced a superfluity with dangerous powers of veto. He dwelt on the fact that the voters will, under a charter, elect their councilmen as now, that the city manager will be appointed by the council and be subject to removal by them if he fails to meet the responsibilities of his task, also that he will be given no power under the charter that is not subject to the approval of the council. On this point he insisted that the charter did not give sufficient authority to the city manager. He believes, he said, in centralizing responsibility in the manager rather than in the council, but said he would vote for the charter nevertheless, because wherever it failed to meet the city's needs amendment could be had by a vote of our own people, whereas under the present system of government no amendment is possible save through the state legislature.

GOOD PROGRAM AT THE GLENDALE

Elaine Hammerstein in "The Daughter Pays," the feature picture at the Glendale theater today, is an emotional actress of great gifts. The picture in which she stars today gives ample scope for her versatile powers and the plot is one of intense interest. Those who saw this picture yesterday say it is one well worth seeing, with Elaine Hammerstein at her best and supported by a competent cast.

The second episode of the "Son of Tarzan" and a Hall Room Boys' comedy, "Hired and Fired," complete the bill. Mme. Clement's special organ number is "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

DAVID BLACK ELECTED TRUSTEE CITY SCHOOLS

In the excitement of the absorbing high school trustee election last Friday, that for city school trustee at the same place and time was overlooked in the news columns. David Black, 1450 Kenneth road, was the only one voted for, and no names were written in. He received 1081 votes, which is a splendid tribute to his worth as a man and a public servant.

O. E. S. HONORS GRAND OFFICERS

A brilliant affair was the reception at Masonic Temple in Los Angeles for grand officers of the Eastern Star which took place Saturday evening. Not only was the auditorium which seats 1000 completely filled, but the crowd overflowed into the corridor.

Quite a delegation attended from Glen Eyrie chapter, this city, which included Mrs. Earl Naudain, worthy matron, her husband and daughter Lois; W. W. Worley, worthy patron, and Mrs. Worley; Mrs. Frank Vesper, chaplain; Mr. Vesper, past patron; Mrs. Parke, associate matron; Mrs. Phillips, conductress; Mrs. Sallie Braden and Mrs. S. A. Pollock, past matrons; Mrs. W. S. Rattray, marshal, and Mr. Rattray; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts, past patron and past matron; Mrs. George Tennant, Mrs. R. M. Brown and Mr. Bourne, patron of the Eagle Rock chapter and also president of the Patrons' Association. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell, past patron and past matron.

Three Glendale girls contributed to the program, viz.: Miss Lois Naudain, Miss Margaret Brown and Miss Marian Stadley, who gave a group dance representing morning, noon and night.

Beautiful gifts were presented to the guests of honor, the grand worthy matron receiving a handsome diamond bar pin, the grand worthy patron being made the recipient of a chest of silver.

AT BEDSIDE OF NIECE

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones has been keeping vigil at the bedside of her little niece, daughter of Mrs. Phillips, of Los Angeles, who is lying at the point of death, following pneumonia. Mrs. Jones was up all night Sunday and will return to be a watcher tonight.

DAMAGED

EASTER EXERCISES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Easter was a wonderful day for both old and young at the First Baptist church yesterday. The Easter exercises of the Sunday school were very pleasing. The primary and junior departments were the entertainers in songs, recitations and exercises. The seeing as well as the hearing was most enjoyable. An Easter offering for the starving children of the world was brought in by the classes, amounting to over $100.

At the 11 o'clock service the ushers were taxed to find seats for those who came to worship. The Easter music was well rendered by the choir, under the leadership of E. C. Boynton. The beautiful anthem, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and a response, "Christ Hath Risen," were sung. Mrs. Vera McKee Neighbors sang the truly great solo by Oley Speaks, "In the End of the Sabbath."

The pastor, Ernest E. Ford, spoke from the text which he has used for the last two Sundays, taking the last clause, "I am the Life." Some of the things that he said were:

"Easter is in no sense a day for outward display; it marks one of the most sacred of all events of history; the day on which Christ came forth from the awful struggle against Satan and sin, as conqueror. When Jesus was born there was little hope in the world. The Sadducees, who were among the leaders of the Jews, did not believe in the resurrection of the dead. Man was without hope, and without God. The first Easter was the turning point of the race; the triumph of spirit over matter, of hope over despair, of life over death.

"Life came from God. And the Lord God formed man out of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul."

DIVISIONS OF THE LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The various divisions of the local Y. M. C. A. spent their Easter vacation in activities characteristic of the organization.

The "Hi-Y" boys, with their packs on their backs, climbed nearly to the top of Old Baldy on Friday evening. After spending the night under the stars, they went on to the top Saturday morning, registered there, and when they had rested, descended again reaching their homes Saturday evening.

The grammar groups, under the leadership of W. S. Boyd, of North Isabel, and S. C. Wheeler of East Harvard, had a track meet at Annandale with the boys of Strickland Home. Although Glendale was badly beaten, they were highly commended by the Los Angeles officials present for the fine spirit in which they took defeat as well as for the courage they maintained in fighting on to the end, when they knew they were beaten.

Refreshments of oranges, ice cream and cake were served by F. B. Silverwood of Los Angeles.

The intermediate group, under the leadership of Joseph Maier, of North Adams street, enjoyed a swim at Bimini on Saturday afternoon.

PRAYER MEETINGS IN MANY HOMES

On Tuesday evening, commencing at 7:30, there will be held prayer meetings in behalf of the John Brown evangelistic meetings. These meetings will be held in different parts of our city, and are open to everyone; they will not last over 45 minutes and all Christian people are urged to attend the meeting nearest their home.

Following is a list of the places where meetings will be held on Tuesday night:

Mrs. R. D. Jones, 322 East Dryden; Geo. W. Tyrrell, 436 Palm drive; Mrs. Hutton, 326 East Colorado; John Camphouse, 217 East Maple; W. H. Nesbit, 338 Hawthorne; Mr. Keim, 342 West California; Mrs. Chas. Temple, 145 North Orange; Mrs. L. E. Richardson, 1856 South Brand; Mrs. L. E. Myres, 1316 South Central; J. J. Davis, 240 North Louise; R. P. Isett, 509 North Maryland; W. G. Boyd, 326 North Jackson; R. D. King, 214 North Belmont.

There will be a meeting of the committee at the Baptist church Monday night. Every member is urged to be present.

A small deposit secures any instrument on Shu-Bar Music Shop's present sale. Two years or more to pay. Open evenings, 712 East Broadway.—Advertisement.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Martin of Lancaster, California, will be the guests for the next few days of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McHaffie of 105 East Wilson avenue.

PUBLIC FORUM

[Anything published under this head does not indicate that the Press endorses the sentiments expressed. No aspersions upon the motives or actions or nothing of a derogatory or personal character will be published. All articles under this heading must be signed.]

Editor, Glendale Press:

Dear Sir.—May I have the privilege of a little space in your bright little edition toward the progress of our beautifully growing city, to briefly comment upon, specifically, Proposition No. 2, at our coming election.

During the past 15 years some of us have resided upon Oak street. When we located there we found that some time previous a two-inch water main, which had been dug up from another street, had been installed. It was in such a fragile condition and was laid so near the surface, that of my own positive knowledge it has frequently been broken by the contact of wagon wheels. A few years later a petition having been circulated for street improvement, the city engineer gave it as his ultimatum that owing to the poor grade of the street, the fragile condition of the curbing not being able to withstand the lateral pressure of the roller; that every foot of the curbing and necessarily the sidewalk, as the sidewalk would not then conform to the grade, would all have to come up and be duplicated.

As the total expense would be more than the residents felt able to carry the matter was dropped for the time being.

About 10 years later (very recently), during all of which time we have been voting for bonds for schools, bonds for parks, bonds for civic centers, and incidentally, bonds for water mains for the convenience of Glendale residents in general, including the various boards of trustees and city manager, while we have been suffering from an inadequate water supply, not alone for irrigating purposes, fire protection, but actually for sanitary purposes; now when we ask for street improvement to include a four-inch water main to replace the two-inch "four family" rotten main, the authorities inform us that there are no funds available for such purpose, that the present main, which is serving 10 times as many residents as it was then, "is all right for a few years, we can tear up the street later and lay a pipe, we need not regrade the street, the curb need not come up."

In other words, after 10 years wear, the pipe is in better condition, serves a hundred people better than it did, the storm water runs up hill now and the curbing has become so solidified that it will withstand any kind of pressure.

But to cap the climax, the city manager has a bright idea which he puts over the board of trustees who adopt it "unanimously" to the effect as provided for in Proposition No. 2, "that the citizens of Glendale be given the privilege of dictating to those other citizens who have been suffering for water for years, that they shall have the privilege of paying for their own water mains hereafter or go without.

In other words, we have ours, to h—l with you.

We respectfully submit to our fair-minded neighbors that no person has at least a moral right to make such a suggestion, much less make it the privilege of a certain class to dictate such a proposition, consequently we beg you to vote NO on Proposition No. 2.

Very sincerely yours,
J. F. TATLOW.

EAGLE ROCK'S BIG EASTER SERVICE

It was estimated that at least 12,000 persons attended the Easter sunrise service at Eagle Rock, coming by trolley, automobile and on foot. Some even camped near the rock for the night that they might be in time for the service. Rev. Gilliland of the Eagle Rock Methodist church made the opening prayer, Rev. Wetherell of the Presbyterian church of that city gave the Scripture reading and Rev. Morgan Isaac of the Congregational church preached the sermon. The reading of "God of the Open Air," by Frederick Warde, as the sun came over the hill, was most impressive, as were also the special musical numbers, "Hail Joyous Morn," sung by Paula Dohrman; "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," by Laletsky's orchestra, and "The Holy City," played as a cornet solo by Coloneus.

C. A. Lessard, 707 Orange Grove, has returned from a trip to San Francisco, Sacramento and the San Joaquin valley, where he visited a brother.

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH SERVICES

With a record-breaking attendance, large Easter offerings, and 25 new members added to the church, there was occasion for special rejoicing by the members and friends of the First Lutheran church. The recent accessions to the membership roll under the leadership of the new pastor, have doubled the strength of the congregation.

Dr. Funk used for his subject the character of an uncultured religious enthusiast; based on the words found in the 16th chapter of the Gospel according to Mark, at the seventh verse. It was a message of an angel to the disciples as they were gathered together in an upper room at Jerusalem. Peter, the leader of the twelve, had denied his Master; yea, more, he cursed and swore that he did not know Him. And yet this same Lord and Master on the morning of the resurrection graciously sends a message to His fallen disciple, who must have been in a penitent mood and the most miserable man on earth at the time, assuring Peter that He had neither forgotten nor forsaken him. Peter's temperament and instability were well-known to the Savior; but by the power of His resurrection this weak, temperamental follower was transformed into "Petros," the rock. Have you forgotten, neglected or denied your Lord? If so, remember Peter.

EASTER SERVICES AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

Easter was ushered in at the Central Christian church with a sunrise prayer meeting by the Missionary Society. Then the Bible School did its part by showing the largest regular attendance in its history. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with white lilies, bridal wreath, asparagus fern and other greenery in simple but most effective design.

The morning service taxed the capacity, every nook and corner being filled. After a beautiful song service, including two anthems by the choir, and a solo by Mrs. Floyd Mercer, a powerful and effective sermon was preached by Pastor Clifford A. Cole, on the theme, "The Great Hope of Easter Morning." First taking his audience on a journey around the world to the tombs of dead civilizations and the centers of false religions, he reminded them that the Christian religion is the only faith that is brightened by songs, and the only one that can endure. Jesus Christ is the only hope of the world, as Paul says again and again. Though he died a shameful death on the cross, he is today the central figure of the universe and countless millions bless his name.

The topic of the evening service was somewhat akin to that of the morning, "This World's Only Hope," the opening statement, the deep significance of which became more apparent as the speaker continued, was, "there is hope for the world as long as the world has hope." He spoke of the marvelous growth of the church in recent months and declared that the preacher's avocation was the best and most joyous in the whole world. The spirit of optimism was apparent through the entire discourse.

The day was happily closed by a baptismal service in which four young people "were buried by baptism into His death to arise to walk in newness of life."

The music was most beautiful and greatly enjoyed by the large audience.

DANCING DEAN FINDS "TODDLE" DANCE O. K.

(By International News Service)
EVANSTON, ILL., March 28.—The "toddle" not longer is under a faculty ban at Northwestern University, thanks to Jimmie Caldwell, student jazz artist and the musical susceptibility of Dean Roy C. Flickinger.

The dean, who has been uncompromising in his opposition to the dance, recently attended a toddle party as chaperon. Jimmie's music was particularly entrancing that night. Finally the dean seized a partner and toddled out on the floor.

Four hundred surprised students fell back in admiration and watched the gyrations of the professor and his partner. Jimmie played faster and faster. Finally the dean stopped and panted:

"Well, that's some dance. I guess it's O. K."

GLENDALE TENTH OF COAST CITIES

City Stands High in February Building — Seventh in California List

In February there was quite a revival in building all over the country with one or two exceptions. New York was first in value of building permits, as usual, and Chicago, which had been limping along in third to fifth place, behind Detroit every month, with only three or four millions in permits, jumped to second place with over $15,000,000, and Los Angeles was fifth, San Francisco sixth. Baltimore was third and Boston fourth, while Detroit dropped to seventh and Cleveland to eighth. Following is the list of coast cities, in order:

Los Angeles	$3,131,670
San Francisco	3,126,581
Portland, Ore.	1,354,220
Oakland	966,288
San Diego	909,775
Long Beach	610,575
Seattle, Wash.	578,925
Pasadena	298,706
Sacramento	288,180
Glendale	197,678

Tacoma, Fresno, Berkeley, Santa Barbara, Stockton, San Jose and Spokane, all much larger than Glendale, lag along far behind.

EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD VOTE

Every voter in Glendale should show his interest in his home town by exercising his right to vote on the important issues to come before the people for their decision at the election tomorrow. The questions to be voted on are all vital to the growth and expansion of the city. It is the business of every man and woman who has a vote to give his best thought, his earnest attention to these important questions and then vote on them according to his own best judgment. If he fails to do this, he is not a good citizen.

The charter prepared and proposed by the board of freeholders is one of the important matters coming before Glendale citizens for their acceptance or rejection tomorrow. Glendale needs the charter, if she is to expand and grow and improve as she should, and as she has every opportunity for doing, if conditions are favorable. The charter will give her larger powers, will enable her to keep up the wonderful advancement she has been making of late and to carry out plans which cannot be brought to fruition unless she has these enlarged powers.

The additional expense of city government under this charter is very slight; a mere bagatelle compared with the enlarged powers given Glendale. Those who have not read the charter owe it to themselves and to Glendale to get a copy, read it and form their own judgments, not pre-judge it on the say-so of others.

It is possible and indeed highly probable that the charter in some certain points may not be acceptable to all; but any thinking individual knows that no charter could be prepared or proposed that would suit everyone in every particular. It is a document, however, that can be amended; it is not inflexible, like the laws of the Medes and Persians.

The proposed bond issues are also vital to Glendale's growth. Special attention is called to the fact that the larger portion of the proposed bonds, as well as the larger portion of the present outstanding bonds, will be supported from the revenues of the water and light business and not by taxation.

The proposed issue of $83,000 for the gymnasium; based on 33-year bonds at 6 per cent, figured on last year's property valuation, will require a tax of 8 1/4 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. The children need the parks and the swimming pool. The cost is trifling compared to the benefit they will be to the Glendale boys and girls of today—Glendale's future men and women.

The proposed $26,000 bond issue for ware house, garage and material yards, will be supported by the annual budget; it will not require a special tax to meet the principal and interest thereon; and surely it is wasteful to let the city's machines, implements, tools and supplies stand out in the weather exposed to the elements. We need the warehouse, the garage and the yards to care for the city's materials.

The $100,000 of proposed water bonds will be supported entirely from the revenues of the water department; provided the entire amount is devoted to distribution mains.

SO THERE!

After six years' service as "public foot-wiper," as he expresses it, Palmer V. Johnson, editor of the Marion (S. C.) Star, has been re-elected as the mayor of the town. Editorially in his newspaper he comments:

"They heaped all the troubles of the universe upon our weary bald pate—and then they lifted all our burdens from us by beating us at an election—Glory be!

"We have settled land disputes, family disputes, dog disputes and some unfair accusations.

"We have been insulted, disgusted, spat upon and imposed upon.

"We have been blamed for stopped sewers, blocked streets, heavenly showers, poor telephone service and the present price of cotton.

"We have been called a liar until we almost believe it.

"We have become widely known as a grand rascal, an arch criminal, a desperado, a policy player and a bigoted fool.

"We have been accused of attempting to give the Presbyterian church title to the town hall.

"Mothers accused us of overrunning the town with dogs and dog owners blamed us with the deluge of babies.

"When the baby had whooping cough it was because we allowed the north wind to blow, and when it had colic it was because we allowed dog friends to exhaust the supply of paregoric at the drug stores."

TRUSTEE DICKER; WOMEN BUILD ROAD

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 28.—Shawnee township in the southern part of Wyandotte county, will have good roads this summer, thanks to several, score determined women.

Tired of waiting on the men folks and the township trustees, the women recently spent an entire Saturday showing how easy it is for even amateurs to build good roads. They constructed nearly a hundred feet of good dirt highway during their eight hours of toil.

Kansas women in other townships are reported planning following their example to speed up road building.

One of the first things before the new congress will be the immigration question. A law that would compel an emigrant to bring a house and a job with him would be received with acclaim.

MILD WINTER CAUSES ICE CROP FAILURE

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 28.—The price of at least one commodity will be higher in the middle west this summer, according to ice men.
Chicago alone is short 1,800,000 of ice because the mild winter has made the ice crop a failure, they declare. The city's normal production is 2,000,000 tons and only 200,000 have been harvested. The Consumers' company has sent men 300 miles from Chicago in search of ice.

THE MIRACLE OF LOVE

I.
He'd never been to Lover's Lane, nor heard a baby coo;
He'd never seen the lark at morn, nor roses kissed with dew;
Never seen a summer sunset, russet pale to gold,
Nor beheld the moon and stars, a glorious night unfold;
Forever seeing Self reflected, cast from haughty die—
All he saw was I.

He cherished not a loving heart, and few kind words he said,
And where a rose hungered to bloom, a thorn grew up instead.
Many of us are just as he—no room for Love to grow.
And forever miss a treasure, the best in life to know;
Forgotten, lie down at the end in loneliness to cry—
"All I saw was I."

II.
He wandered into Lover's Lane, and saw a baby grow;
He heard the calling of a lark, a robin sweet and low;
Saw the sun sink in the west, the moon rise o'er the hill;
The night wind sang a song to him, he heard a whippoorwill;
Thankfulness lingered on his lips, and moisture dimmed his eye—
"Grateful, Lord am I."

His throbbing heart was filled with love, upon his lips a prayer,
Thanking God for a life of love, for blessings everywhere.
"Let my life one of service be," is all I ask of Thee;
If Self should rise and make of me that which I fain would be,
Take me by the hand, show me why, the least of life is I—
Unafraid to die!
—Woodward Pemberton.

FEES FOR TRUCKS MAY BE DOUBLED

Under amendments to the state motor vehicle act which the joint conference at Sacramento, Thursday, March 17, recommended to the legislature the state fee for all commercial automobiles and trucks would be doubled.

The proposed amendment does not change the 40 cents per horse power rating for pleasure cars, but includes in the commercial car class all vehicles used for commercial purposes. The amendment would include in the commercial truck class delivery wagons and light pneumatic truck bodied cars which heretofore have been exempt from special taxation.

ADVERTISES FOR 'LOST' METHODISTS

By International News Service
EVANSTON, Ill., March 28.—"Lost, 100 Methodists."

This advertisement recently startled Evanston newspaper readers. It was inserted by the Rev. Ernest Fremont Little, pastor of the First Methodist church here, who believes in "fighting like the devil with printer's ink." His church has a membership of 2000, an increase of nearly 100 per cent since he assumed the pastorate. His text of the "lost" advertisement reads as follows:
"Lost—Somewhere between Church street and Hinman avenue, Evanston, and the little old church back home, 100 church letters. Some are in attics, others in desks, still others in the possession of former pastors. Suitable reward and much satisfaction assured to all who find and turn them in to the pastor of this church."

PLACING CROWN ON PAGODA

Solemn Ceremony at Mandalay That Attracted Crowds of the Devout Followers of Buddha.

A curious festival was held not long ago in Mandalay, the chief town of Burma. A new pagoda dedicated to the Buddhist religion was to be completed by the placing of a huge crown or thi upon its summit, more than 300 feet above the ground.

To witness the ceremony came Buddhists from Indo-China, from the Himalayas, from Laos and Chan and Siam. Warriors from Katschin. Sorcerers from Mot and people from other places made a medley of languages like that at Babel.

On a street corner would be seen a barber pulling a customer's tooth. On another corner a Mohammedan bird dealer sold caged parrots to Buddhists who piously set them free. At very modern booths one could buy ice cream, soda or tea. Mandalay was a gorgeous spectacle and the new pagoda was the center of it.

Every pagoda has at its summit a thi, or cup, the placing of which is often a herculean task. The one now to be raised weighed several hundred pounds and consisted of a gilded ball and crown and a great spindle above it.

To get it to the top an inclined plane of bamboo scaffolding like a huge toboggan slide had been built, and was decorated with silk flags and umbrellas. Up the inclined plane the heavy cap was slowly pulled. Six days were required for the ascent and a seventh to fasten it in place.

WORK OF SPONGE GATHERERS

Divers Go to Great Depths to Collect Them From the Rocks to Which They Are Fixed.

Sponges are of many qualities, but the most highly prized is that of Syria, with a cuplike shape and a yellowish pale color, which is found in a number of varieties.

The large sponge fisheries are situated along the seashores of Greece, Syria and of certain parts of the Adriatic as well as along the Tripoli and Tunisian seashores. The fishing of sponges is effected by divers who are let down from a boat to depths of 10, 20 and sometimes 25 meters, and pull the sponges from the rocks to which they are fixed. Some sponge fishermen use a long trident, but this system is fortunately falling into disuse, since it spoils the sponges. In better-equipped fishing grounds the gathering of sponges is effected by divers provided with diving bells or dressed in cork jackets.

Upon being gathered the sponges are squeezed, beaten and washed in order to rid them of their black coating and soft substance which gives them a very characteristic chlorine odor. When they begin to wither they are subjected to a frequently renewed solution of sulphuric acid.

Why Go to College?

"I know a young Yale graduate in Philadelphia who is now convinced that a college education is a bar to wealth," "Girard" writes in the Philadelphia Press.

He is a clever electrician and got a job after leaving Yale which paid him $30 a week. In his new place he came in contact with an uneducated foreman who tried to persuade the college lad to "turn a day laborer and join the union."

He was assured that in a fortnight he could get $60 a week.

The young son of Eli stuck to his electrical job and when wiring a building in Philadelphia a boss painter told him he could get double the $30 a week he was then getting if he took up the paint brush.

"Do you wonder that this youth who holds his Yale sheepskin is puzzled in figuring out just how a college education pays him?"

Weary of the Thought of War.

The imperial war museum at the Crystal palace in London has been almost entirely deserted. There is a lot to be seen under the great glass roof, but few persons are sufficiently interested to make a visit. The long avenues of armaments are seldom visited. Among 200 or 300 visitors on one day there were only two private soldiers. Their opinion was: "It is mournful, gloomy and uninspiring." A Daily Mail representative who made a tour of the exhibition found that the majority of the people regarded the display in the same light as the soldiers. A war widow and her sixteen-year-old daughter, with the knowledge of how "father died," shed tears in front of the Warpsite exhibits and then walked slowly out of the building. It was a pathetic incident that moved other visitors. But it was only one of its kind.

Big Saving in Heating Power.

With a first cost for heating plant of about $6,000, the Husquarna factories in Sweden have been making an annual saving of 400 tons of coke for several years by utilizing surplus power. A hydraulic station supplied electric power, and, as water-storage facilities are lacking, the electric generators continue to run at night, the current produced being turned into account for heating the 44,000 gallons of water in a large subterranean tank. During the daytime the hot water is circulated in the heating system of the establishment. The shops thus get sufficient heat for their 12-hour day except during the very coldest weather, and then the original coal-firing plant is called upon for auxiliary service.

SAN GABRIEL DAM WILL BE WONDER

Proposed Project Will Remove Flood Menace and Furnish Irrigation Water

Flood Control Engineer J. W. Reagan recently gave out an explanation of the plans for the proposed dam in San Gabriel canyon, right where the North Fork joins the main river. The dam as planned will be 425 feet high which is 65 feet greater altitude than any other yet built, 300 feet long at the stream bed and 1700 feet long at the top. It will contain 3,000,000 cubic feet of concrete, and the cost is estimated at $24,000,000. It would form a lake eight miles long, with a maximum width of 1 1/2 miles, covering 2087 acres and storing 322,000 acre feet of water. The construction of this dam, according to Mr. Reagan, will remove all menace of flood from 102,000 acres of highly cultivated lands between Azusa and the ocean. The water it will furnish for irrigation will bring $6 per acre foot, or nearly $2,000,000 a year, and electrical energy can be developed amounting to 11,450 horsepower, yielding $760,000 a year.

The Pacoima canyon dam is next in importance to the above project. It will be 350 feet high.

J. J. BURKE HAS OPENED NEW SHOP

J. J. Burke, contractor and builder, who has recently opened a shop at 1211 South San Fernando Road, says the amount of building being done in South Glendale is amazing. Among the buildings Mr. Burke has in course of construction are a modern 5-room bungalow with many new features for H. Harrison, at 221 West Lomita avenue; a very convenient, modern 3-room house for Andrew Stephenson, at 1241 South Central avenue, and an addition to the home of Mrs. E. L. Early, 519 East Palmer.

BEGIN BUILDING ON FINE HOME

William Sauter, of North Howard street, will soon begin the building of a fine home on Isabel street across from the Adventist Church. This home, when completed, will cost about $4,000.

SHOW LOCATION OF WATER

Signs on Painted Desert in the Southwest Guide Travelers to the Precious Liquid.

Travel off the beaten paths in the famous Painted Desert of the Southwest would be a dangerous matter were it not for the stone sentinels set up by the Navajo Indians to direct the stranger traveling through that country, where once there was water in plenty, but where now are only the dry beds of rivers.

These sentinels are piles of rocks, as high as a man, located on rises of ground where they may be readily seen. In the body of the monument is placed a projecting rock which is arranged to point the direction to the nearest spring or waterhole. If one follows the direction indicated, although he may have to proceed a considerable distance, the precious water will always be found.

Frequently it is only a very weak seep supplying no more than a few cups in an hour. Or it may be a pool located deep in the recesses of a rocky ledge and collected from the snows of the past winter. Sometimes it is situated in an out-of-the-way place, and then there may be two, or even three smaller monuments erected along the route designated.

Also along the way there may be arrows cut in the rocks or crooked grooves symbolizing the windings of a brook or signs of various kinds which will attract attention. These directions all help to make the way plainer and reduce the chance of the traveler becoming confused.

JOIN A "THANK YOU" CLUB

No Initiation Fee and No Dues, and Membership Is Open to Every Person.

It's great, the "Thank You" club. No initiation, no dues, no long-drawn-out meetings, and no reports. Anyone can make a quorum to do business. No stated meetings nor any stipulated place of meeting. Anybody can start a "Thank You" club. Beats overall clubs all to pieces! Lasts longer, does more good, and spreads sunshine.

One carries the by-laws around in his head. The password is "Thank You." And that's all there is in the whole book of rules. That's all it means, the "Thank You" club—just a thank you for the little services performed daily as well as the big ones. A thank you is more appreciated by many people than a tip, which, by some, might be considered an insult.

Start a club some morning. Watch your club grow. Good ideas spread. Try the club, for one day. It may make you a life member. And the "thank you" exchanges will increase and radiate like ripples from a stone thrown into the millpond.

There's a big field in this world for "Thank You" clubs. Their members take the edge off rough places. If "Thank You" is the password, the genuine smile of service is the open reward for its application.—Haverhill Gazette.

Fake "Josses" for Travelers.

Canton and Amoy supply travelers and curio dealers with quantities of hideous idols known in the trade as "josses." They are fakes pure and simple, having no relation to any oriental religion. Ingenious designers have produced a great variety of hobgoblins—such, for example, as the "hunger god," with the face of a tiger and ferocious fangs.

Most of them are of clay, turned out from wooden or metal molds, dipped in molten glass and allowed to cool. A fairly expert Chinese workman can make 100 in a day at a cost of 3 cents apiece. The European or American tourist pays $5.

Real josses may be worth a lot of money, especially if carved out of jade. This is a material greatly prized in the orient, and a jade idol 15 inches high, and as many centuries old, has been known to sell for $10,000 in Canton.

White and Red Roses Blended.

The most interesting combination of roses is that of the union of the white rose of York with the red rose of Lancaster after the long struggle between those two factions when the red rose might have represented the blood that was shed and the other one the condition of the people bled white by the wars. To cement the peace Henry of Lancaster wedded pretty Elizabeth of York and a clever gardener of old England blended the two roses and made a new one, striped red and white. We have it in this country where it is still called the York and Lancaster, though not every beholder realizes the story held in its fragrant petals.

The Cockade.

The cockade, an ornament or knot of ribbon or rosette of leather, was originally worn as a military or naval decoration or as the badge of a political party. Cockades made of ribbons of the national colors were worn by soldiers of the national wars of the eighteenth century. In England after the expulsion of the Stuart dynasty the white cockade became the badge of the adherents of the exiled house in opposition to the orange of Nassau and the black of Hanover. From the hats of the military it passed to those of the civil servants of the crown. Then as headgear changed the use of the distinction was confined to servants. The black cockade on the hats of officers' servants was introduced by George I.

BROWN SHADES FOR INTERIORS

Brown effects are in style for home interiors this year, according to the verdict of the master house painters and decorators, who have been in session in Louisville, says the Courier-Journal. Maize was the favorite color last year, and green the year before, but house styles are as fickle as those of dress, according to the decorators. Brown won't be found in every room, however. Libraries are tending to buff and cream instead of the red of recent years. Dining room tones will be deep, as usual, harmonizing with the furniture. Bedrooms are still done in blue and green for sunny exposures, with yellow and light colors where the room is dark.

The drawing room, which must be tan, according to the dictates of fashion—Sir fashion in this case, rather than the customary Dame—is the hardest to sell to home owners, according to a New York decorator. Husbands almost always object, he said, but the wife and the decorator generally bring him around to the "artistic" point of view.

ERROR IN TYPE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 28.—Considerable mystification was caused at St. James' palace recently by the receipt there of numerous letters from France, each letter begging the Prince of Wales to make the writer a gift, the articles mentioned varying from bicycles to motor cars.

It now transpires that when the prince recently received Georges Carpentier at his residence and gave the French boxer his autograph, the French press, in reporting the incident, by some strange error converted "autograph" into "automobile" and by so doing apparently spread the impression that the Prince of Wales was a multi-millionaire and a benefactor to all and sundry.

The prince has received scores of letters suggesting that if he has sufficient of this world's wealth to give Carpentier an auto would he condescend to bestow upon the writers a bicycle, a two-seater, or some other suitable present.

The Bible tells us that Eve did not realize her clothesless condition until she ate the apple. Which suggests the question: Why not pass the apples now?

BOOTLEGGERS GIVE WEALTH TO U. S.

(By International News Service)

BILLINGS, Mont., March 26.—Montana bootleggers contributed 14 fast motor cars, valued at $45,000, to the miscellaneous possessions of Uncle Sam during the year just passed.

Thirteen more cars involved in cases still pending are in possession of the federal government, while contraband liquors valued at more than $50,000 have been destroyed and United States courts have disposed of 50 cases, the government failing to obtain a conviction in only one.

These figures were given out by United States Marshal Joseph Ashbridge, here to attend a meeting of the Montana Pioneers' Association, who suggests that these figures could not be considered as a poor prohibition showing in view of the fact that the public is not generally showing a very keen interest in the enforcement of prohibition measures in the state.

The records of arrests in Montana for violations of the prohibition laws show some decidedly interesting and thrilling experiences on the part of officials and those to whom they gave chase. The average Montanan, reared as he was to ride a broncho over hills and through vales, knows no fear when it comes to "stepping on her," while in the driver's seat of a fast motor car. They know the roads and they also know the short cuts, whether they be through an almost impassable coulee or across a plain with cactus beds and jagged rocks as the "carpet" for cars to pass over.

Canadian whiskey-runners have been here and they have nearly always been taken by Montana sheriffs and federal law enforcement men who are native to the state and the west. A Montanan never hesitates to turn his car from the main road, cut across the roughest kind of territory and take a long chance of breaking his neck as well as the car in order to land his quarry.

"It's no use," one of these whiskey runners from the north country remarked to a sheriff when the latter came down upon him from a side hill at a 40-mile an hour clip. "Who the devil would look for a car coming out of that hell-hole?"

Riding a broncho in early days and the experiences derived therefrom are aiding the federal government in landing whiskey runners in this state and the native officers apparently enjoy the old saying, "Let her buck," when back of the wheel of a fast motor car.

DISCHARGE MAN WHO HAD LIVE SNAKE

(By International News Service)

FT. WAYNE, Ala., March 28.—J. Wiley Reese, who carried a live snake with church with him and was charged with disturbing religious worship, was released by the non-jury division of the De Kalb county court when he pleaded that the reptile was taken as a part of the religious rite in which he believed. Judge Steele decided the matter involved the defendant's conscience and religious convictions, therefore the court was forced to release him. The worshipers had fled at the appearance of the snake.

THIS JAIL NEEDS EXPERT YEGG

By International News Service
ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, March 28.—Sheriff Richard T. Lynch would like to have a kind-hearted safe cracker do something that would entitle him to admission to the Belmont county jail.

Lynch and his deputies seized a safe in Lansing while raiding a reserve for alleged violation of the liquor laws. Mike Kusic, owner, refused to open the safe, saying he had forgotten the combination. The officers brought the safe to the county jail. Kusic's attorneys advised him to refuse to open the safe.

The officers are awaiting the arrival of someone who will do it for them, so they can determine whether any booze is stored in the strong box.

Cattle and Sheep Men Engage In Bitter Feud

(By International News Service)

CRAIG, Col., March 28.—One man is dead; six have been indicted in connection with sheep killings; several hundred sheep have been slaughtered; the torch has been applied to dozens of cattle pens, and cattle and sheepmen have again been divided into two hostile camps as a result of the renewal of the sheep and cattle war in Northwestern Colorado and Eastern Utah.

The armed truce that existed between the two opposing stockraising interests for the past 25 years, following the establishment of a "dead line" over which neither side had dared step, has broken into open warfare that county, state and even federal officials are experiencing much difficulty in coping with.

Renewal of Bloodshed

Cattlemen say that the sheep interests have been responsible for the renewal of bloodshed and conditions bordering on rural anarchy, while the sheep raisers blame the cattlemen, charging the latter with taking advantage of abnormal conditions resulting from the world war to break the unwritten contract that only sheep should graze on the Utah side of the imaginary "dead line."

During the world war, Utah ranchers made strenuous efforts to increase production, and lack of railroad facilities left them with a surplus of forage crops. To dispose of this surplus, they made contracts with the cattlemen to feed their stock in what has been forbidden territory. The cattlemen have taken advantage of this situation to put cattle on the sheep range, it is claimed.

The sheepmen have openly stated that they would force the cattlemen to open all the free range in Northwestern Colorado to stock of all kinds.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR CITY CHARTER

Referendum by Chamber of Commerce Almost Unanimously Favorable

The big vote cast by members of the chamber of commerce in the referendum on issues to be voted upon next Tuesday should be very cheering to those who have been working for the adoption of a city charter, especially to the board of freeholders who gave so much time and conscientious work to the drafting of the instrument. The chamber's vote stood 108 for the charter and but 10 against. If that proportion obtains in the coming election it will carry overwhelmingly.

It will confirm rather than change our present form of government, but will give our city additional powers needed to meet the problems of a rapidly expanding municipality.

When asked for an opinion on this issue, Daniel Campbell, president of the Glendale National bank, said: "I think it is time Glendale got in line with a charter system of government. I am for the proposition although I am not familiar with all its provisions. I think it is the right thing to vote for."

R. F. Kitterman, cashier of the First National bank said much the same thing, declaring he is for a charter because it will give the city powers that are denied under the city of the sixth class form of government under which we are now operating, powers which are needed for a municipality developing as fast as is Glendale.

Mattison B. Jones said: "I am for a charter. If there be faults in it, they can be easily corrected. It is fundamentally right and by all means progressive Glendale should adopt a charter. Not to do so would be a big mistake."

step backward which is contrary to the entire spirit of the city."

W. S. Rattray expressed much the same thought, viz.: "I am for the charter absolutely. I have not studied it closely, but it is unquestionably the proper thing to adopt for it is subject to change if it fails to meet the requirements. All good business men are agreed the charter form of government is the thing for a city growing as ours is."

RECOVER $34,000 FROM MAIL ROBBERS

CHICAGO, March 28.—Further arrests are expected by the police in the $1,000,000 mail robbery at the Union Station on January 18, last, in connection with which three men were taken into custody. Stolen bonds valued at $34,000 were recovered with the arrest of the three.

William Krietzler, a bond salesman, Isadore Goldberg, Krietzler's brother-in-law, and C. A. Jetree were the three arrested. Krietzler is held in default of $15,000 bonds while Goldberg and Jetree were released on bonds of $1000.

Krietzler claims he found the $34,000 bonds which were recovered in a vacant lot on the north side last Monday night. Krietzler said he gave them to Goldberg and Goldberg gave them to Jetree. The arrest of the three followed Jetree's attempt to sell the bonds to a brokerage house.

Information gained from the arrest of the three, postoffice officials say, will lead to recovery of the remainder of the loot and the arrest of others involved in the robbery.

New York city motorists, despite their sophistication, violate traffic laws just as much or more as motorists in smaller cities. During 1919 41,000 were haled into the traffic court to answer for their crimes. Even at that, many violators must escape, for the police department is now asking for 1000 more traffic cops to enforce the laws.

EASTER SERMON AT PRESBYTERIAN

"Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world" (Matt. 28:20); "Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you." (John 20:19). These passages formed the text of the Easter morning sermon by Rev. W. E. Edmonds at the Presbyterian church. A brief sketch follows.

It was Sunday evening about 8 o'clock. The disciples were assembled in a house in Jerusalem; but not all were there just then, some were away. Probably other friends were with them. The doors were fast shut and barred. Why was this? First, because very great sorrow had fallen upon them. They had seen their Master put upon the cross, they had heard Him cry "My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" They had seen this death, and then the entombment of the body. They had returned in utter sorrow home and shut and locked the doors because of fear. They had known no fear while He had been with them.

But lack of the fear was unbelief. Now as they talked came Mary. She told them she had seen the Lord, and that he had bidden her come and tell them. They did not believe her at all. They had been dwelling too long at the cross. It is good to sing "At the cross," better, to sing "Hallelujah, Christ Arose"; best of all, "This same Jesus is coming again." And again the frightened disciples hear a knock. Mary Magdalene enters and tells them she had seen the open and empty tomb and the angels, and then she had seen the risen Christ. But they believe her not. Then came Peter, telling that he and John had been to the sepulcher and found it vacant. Believe him? No. And Cleopas comes and tells of the walk to Emmaus, and the wayfarer who joined them and at supper became known to them as their Lord arisen from the grave. Yet the sad group did not believe.

And then suddenly Jesus himself was in their midst, and spoke his familiar blessing. How could he enter? Tell me how he came to life in the tomb. We cannot understand infinite power. But now were the disciples convinced? No, not till they had looked upon the wounds; then at last they knew. And thereupon reaction came into their lives, and these unbelieving men were transformed to become ambassadors for Christ.

All these Easter observances are good; but above everything, have you seen the Risen Christ? Is it all a second-hand message, or is it real and personal to your very self? He will not enter into your life unless you open the door and invite Him in.

A father was showing his little child that wonderful picture of Christ knocking at the door. She asked, "Father, did He get in?"

ENJOY GLENDALE'S GOOD SCHOOLS

Mr. Knapp, who has succeeded W. D. McRae as state secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association county work, is temporarily located at 714½ East Broadway.

The Knapp family has recently come here from Michigan. They are seeking a permanent home here, in order that their four children may enjoy the advantages of Glendale's good schools.

RELIEF CORPS HOLD ALL-DAY MEETING

Long ago, 'way back before the beginning of the Christian era, a great poet celebrated in immortal verse the heroic deeds of a band of soldiers. In one part of it, where they are sitting weary and worn and disheveled and uncomfortable, about their campfire, grumbling (for even heroes have their unheroic moments), this poet tells us that one of them, more optimistic than the others, said to his companions: "Forsan et haec olim meminisse juvabit," which, freely translated, means: "Perhaps it will be even pleasant hereafter to remember these things."

And this is just what N. P. Banks Post, G.A.R., did at their meeting last Friday: they lived over again in retrospect their experience of '61-'64, in five-minute talks, enjoying them now as they did not enjoy them then. Comrade Dufer of Burbank, told of his experiences at the battle of Shiloh when it seemed that the hand of God directed the Union forces; Comrade Hull told of his experience in making pancakes one time, out of nothing but flour and water, when the men found some flour in a house, after they had marched 48 hours without food; Comrade Le Clare, of Burbank, told how, as a boy of 15, he had predicted the war.

Mrs. Pearl Moore of the Relief Corps, recited "The Moo Cow, Moo," and Riley's "Raggedy Man"; Mrs. Milligan, past president of the corps, related the benefits she had derived last year in her work as president, the work coming to her at a time when she needed something to take her thoughts from her own bereavement and sorrow.

Comrade Scudder read a poem by Comrade Dibble which was published in the Daily Press last week.

The business meeting of the post was held in the morning, the relief corps holding theirs in the early afternoon.

A fine luncheon was served at noon by the ladies to the 100 or more members present.

MARLENEES HAVE TWO-WEEK TRIP

Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Marlenee of 301 South Central avenue, returned last week from a two-weeks' auto trip, one week of which they spent at Barstow, where they were the guests of Mrs. Marlenee's mother, Mrs. Milton Armstrong.

The rest of the time was divided among various other places. They visited the Calico Silver mine, seven miles up the mountain from Daggett, a mine from which in its palmy days, 35 millions in silver have been taken. Vacant houses, whose walls are made of the red lava soil taken from the excavations made for the cellars, bear mute testimony to the fact that this was once a thriving settlement of 3500, where there are now only 10 residents.

WORKERS CALLED FOR CHARTER ELECTION

A meeting of members of the chamber of commerce was held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock to discuss promotion work for the election Tuesday and plans for getting the voters out. It was addressed by Judge Lowe who urged the importance of organized team work. There was a rolloff of members from the eight consolidated precincts and all who responded were pledged to make some canvass of their precincts and secure precinct workers who would agree to serve Tuesday. It was decided that 10 to 12 automobiles would be needed and that the chamber headquarters should serve as headquarters for calls for precinct workers. Every voter interested in the carrying of election issues who is willing to serve in any way on Tuesday is asked to report to chamber of commerce headquarters.

MISS WILSON IS MUCH HONORED

Special Guest at Pretty Farewell Functions Given by Her Many Friends

Miss Ruth Wilson, whose approaching marriage to Louis Lewis was recently announced, is kept busy these days attending the numerous functions and showers given in her honor. Saturday afternoon she was the special guest at a pretty affair given by Miss Dorothy Hunt at her home at 420 West Elk. The invitations had been written in rhyme and the acknowledgments came in the same form. After the young ladies had all assembled the answers were read by the hostess, an especially clever one being by Miss Barbara Mitchell. The chief entertainment of the afternoon was a contest in which the girls were required to dress clothespin dolls in a bridal costume made of crepe paper and fastened with pins. The results were quite marvellous, the prize for the best bridal costume going to Miss Louise Robinson, who received a little vanity case. To Miss Helen Snyder, who will be a bride herself in June, went the consolation prize.

The dainty refreshments served by Miss Hunt included heart-shaped sandwiches, charlotte russe, angel cakes and coffee. Easter baskets filled with candy eggs and adorned with a card picturing a cupid with a bride in leading strings, and bearing the inscription “All Aboard for New York,” constituted the favors.

The program also included vocal selections by Misses Marie Oliver and Viola Yorba. About the middle of the afternoon guests were startled by a shrill whistle and Mrs. Hunt announced it was the laundryman. Protest was made against such a disturbance of the party, but he insisted upon coming in and leaving a laundry bag and box for Miss Wilson. When she opened them they were found to be filled with a wonderful collection of towels of every description beautifully adorned with needlework.

Bridal wreath and calla lilies were effectively used as a floral setting for the function. The guest list included Misses Alice Sullivan, Viola Yorba, Barbara Mitchell, Louise Robinson, Gertrude Champlain, Dorothy Hutchinson, Marie Oliver, Ethel Land, Mesdames Howard Ford, Edward Rohr, Seymour Smith, Smith MacMullin and son Richard, Mesdames Vincente Salmacia, John Wilcox, George Monberg, William Sullivan, Tom Furst, D. Ripley Jackson, Charles Morse, Bertha Wilson, Frank Salmacia and daughter Margaret, all of Glendale, Misses Gladys and Louise Kline, Bernice Haun, Margaret Hauber, Helen Snyder, Frances Neth, Rhea Ferdon and Mrs. F. Kester, of Los Angeles, and Miss Olive Watling of Redlands.

Miss Wilson was also the matinee guest of Miss Miriam Lewis of Los Angeles, Sunday afternoon, and Easter night her mother, Mrs. Bertha Wilson, entertained with a dinner party in her honor at their home at 118 North Louise street. Roses from the garden of the hostess were used in decoration and places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. William Kulp of Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Teller, Mr. and Mrs. S. Robbins, for Miss Wilson and the hostess. Guests remained for an evening of music.

LADIES LUNCH AT MASONIC TEMPLE

“This indeed a momentous question, and that it is one of great interest to the members is shown by the fact that many reservations for this luncheon have been made.

TIME TO REJOICE; TIME TO MOURN

Captain T. D. Watson now belongs to those who have experienced the truth of the Scripture saying that there is a time to rejoice and a time to mourn.

Friday was his day to rejoice; for was he not highly honored by his fellow citizens of Glendale by being elected trustee of the high school by a good big vote?

But Saturday was different. Be it known that Captain Watson has a vocation and an avocation. His vocation, by which he earns the bread and butter for his family, is known as “The Glendale Sheet Metal Works.” His avocation, by which, presumably, he seeks to sweeten the aforesaid bread and butter, is about 30 hives of bees housed on the roof of his shop.

On Saturday Captain Watson undertook to move some of these bees. The bees insisted they could not be evicted without a 30-day notice. Captain Watson attempted to argue with them. Needless to say, the bees got the best of the argument. The result was quite serious for a short time; the doughty captain, veteran of the late world war though he be, was badly worsted—so badly that he was unconscious for about half an hour. He says he was stung in a thousand places; maybe he was—anyway, it was bad enough, and no one will gainsay him; for a soldier, like a fisherman, is entitled to a little exaggeration in his tales.

Meanwhile the bees have possession of the field of battle and continue to do business at the old stand.

EPWORTH LEAGUE VESPER SERVICES

Of unusual beauty was the Easter vesper service arranged by the Epworth League of the First Methodist church yesterday.

The league met at 5:30 for a luncheon in the social hall, and at 6:15 they repaired to the church auditorium for the service. Here the only light was that from two spotlights that illuminated a great cross of white lilies set in a background of palms. The effect was unique and very beautiful.

The program was most impressive. It included a hymn, a prayer, a solo, “Jerusalem,” by Dorothy Peart, Scripture reading by Edwin Murphy, president of the league, appropriate remarks by Carl Seltzer, the new director of religious education, a short session of silent prayer, a violin solo, by Lois Murphy, a trio for two cornets and an alto horn, by the Percy brothers, accompanied on the piano by their sister, Miss Percy. Scripture reading, “The Risen Lord,” by Dr. C. M. Crist, with appropriate remarks, and concluded with a consecration service.

Much credit is due Elwood Ingledue and Kenneth Crist, who planned and arranged the details of the impressive service.

SUNRISE SERVICE VERY IMPRESSIVE

The beautiful and impressive sunrise service at the top of the Louise street hill yesterday morning was attended by over 500.

While it was yet almost dark, many machines were parked along Louise street and pilgrims began climbing the hill to assemble at the foot of the cross, which, covered with masses of bridal wreath, towered 12 feet high above the platform.

At 5:30, from a vantage point on the hill above the cross, C. K. Aston, Cecil Percy of Sunland and Dr. Lucas, welcomed the people, with familiar tunes played on their brass instruments. Mr. Aston opened the service at 5:45 with
